ROY M'CULLOUGH IN BATTLE FOR LIFE AGAINST WAVES

GLENDALE MAN, WITH WIFE AND CHILDREN WATCHING, TRIES TO SAVE DROWNING MAN

While a Glendale man—Roy McCullough, 120 South Jackson street—fought a losing battle for another's life, B. H. Delay, a Venice aviator, dived into the ocean off Santa Monica yesterday afternoon in a futile attempt to rescue Howard C. Bronson, of Santa Monica, a bather who was carried out to sea by a rip tide.

Mrs. McCullough and children, Mrs. C. A. Cluff, mother of the local hero, and Mr. Cluff, from the beach near the Santa Monica pier, watched the desperate struggle over the rough swells and as the billows leaped high and shut the young man from their sight anxious hearts beat fast for his safety.

Hears Cries for Help

McCullough, who is a carpenter and expert swimmer, heard Bronson's cries for help. Taking off his shoes and leggins and coat, but otherwise fully dressed, the Glendale man jumped into the surf and succeeded in reaching the drowning man who, as drowning persons will, struggled with his rescuer. Minutes passed and no one else made a move to aid in the rescue.

Pilot Delay from the skies saw the tragedy and made a final endeavor to succor the swimmers, but the current was so swift they were away from the airplane as it glided over the waves. Bronson became unconscious and the deadweight resting heavily on McCullough was dragging him under.

Bruised, Cut and Exhausted

Back on the beach were his kiddies and loved ones. He knew he could not tow the body of the drowned man back against the waves, so he loosened his grip and was thrown on the beach by the tide—bruised, cut and exhausted.

With Joseph Anderson, who nad no more than started to the rescue than he was knocked out by the waves, McCullough was taken to St. Catherine's hospital, after which he was permitted to come to his home here last night.

Today he reported at a Colorado boulevard residence job as one of the carpenter crew, but it will be several days before he will feel completely rested from the struggle which nearly cost his life.

And how proud his wife and mother were this morning to recount the heroism of the husband and son, even though it was a losing fight. They feel lucky that he, too, was not stolen from them by the sea.

Donald F. Carn Is Located In Glendale

Donald F. Carn of Pasadena recently purchased the lease, building, equipment and stock of E. C. LeClaire at the southwest corner of Brand and Colorado. The future of Glendale appealed to Mr. Carn, so he sold his business in Pasadena and is now a permanent resident of Glendale. The business conducted at this corner will be enlarged upon by Mr. Carn, who is a popular Elk. He will carry a complete line of cigars, tobacco, candies, periodicals, ice-cream and soft drink concoctions. The sale of this business was made through the firm of Kelly & Van Arsdol, who believe they have added a live wire to the community.

The same firm also sold a beautiful home on Garfield street the past week to Dr. Thilenius, a dental surgeon of national reputation.

The high class personnel of buyers, according to Mr. Kelly, is only a harbinger of increased demand for property in Glendale and Casa Verdugo.

Miss Margaret Lusby Is Guest Of Honor

Mrs. C. R. Lusby and her mother, Mrs. H. A. Wilson, entertained Saturday with a prettily-appointed luncheon and quilting bee at the home of the latter in Pasadena in honor of Miss Margaret Lusby of Glendale. A silver basket filled with pink sweet peas formed the centerpiece. Dainty placecards marked the places for the guests, who were all relatives of the bride-to-be. During the afternoon two comforters were tied and presented to Miss Lusby by the hostesses.

The guest list, beside the guest of honor, included Mrs. C. D. Lusby, Mrs. E. U. Emery, Miss Waunita Emehy, Mrs. R. A. Salisbury, Miss Maude Salisbury, Mrs. Frank Parsons, Mrs. Harold Salisbury, Mrs. R. W. Lusby of San Fernando, Mrs. J. R. Lusby of Pasadena, and the hostesses, Mrs. C. R. Lusby and Mrs. H. A. Wilson.

Noah's Ark Lands On Verdugo Mountain, In Reel Dry Surroundings

Noah's ark landed on Verdugo mountain.

Don't believe it, do you?

Well, it did, and here's the proof:

The Sacred Films corporation, which is putting the Bible in photoplay, has just completed that portion of its production. The ark scenes traveled from San Diego to Santa Monica and back to the Verdugo foothills near Burbank where the company operates.

This week hundreds of people will be used in a street scene, Jericho or Jerusalem. maybe. So if anyone sees camels and burros and ancients wandering around, don't fear.

It isn't another pilgrimage. Just another chapter of Bible ready for—

"Camera!"

Lawn Need Manicuring?

"Do your lawns need a haircut?"

Daniel Kelty says a lot of them do and to emphasize the fact by mental suggestion, he has placed a battery of lawnmowers in the window of the Cornwell & Kelty Hardware store, 107 South Brand boulevard.

It is understood that several wives have presented their husbands with mowing machines. And those that haven't likely will as soon as they read this.

Need Work? Read This

Outta work? Need a job?

Shouldn't be.

Want help? Hard to find?

Here's the answer:

The city of Glendale, according to T. W. Watson, city manager, is operating a free public employment bureau for the accommodation of those who are unemployed and those who seek workers.

The two girls operating the telephone exchange at the city hall are keeping a card index of those applying for jobs as well as those who want to hire help.

Easy, isn't it? Just phone Glendale 1300 between 8 a. m. and 5 p. m.

Realism in Extreme

"Daddy, Save Me! Daddy! Oh!

A little girl, maybe 5 years old, ran "plop" into Manager W. A. Howe at the Glendale Theatre yesterday afternoon screaming for protection.

It was during the volcano scene of "The Fire Cat," which is featured the first of the week at that theatre, and Madame Clement at the console was lending terrific effect to the picture with the great organ. Red lights, too, caused the interior of the theatre to reflect the mountainous furnace depicted.

"I don't wonder that the little one was scared," said Manager Howe, after soothing her. I've had children of my own and if they were not awed at this picture, I would think them asleep."

Edward L. Payne Is Dead; Funeral Tuesday

Edward L. Payne, formerly a resident of Glendale, died this morning at his home in Lancaster, according to reports received by friends here. Funeral services will be held Tuesday afternoon from the home of his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Jesse Payne of Los Angeles. Besides his parents, Mr. Payne is survived by the widow and two sons, both boys having attended Glendale High school until a year ago when the family moved to a ranch in the Antelope valley. Only recently they moved from their ranch home to the town of Lancaster.

Mr. Payne had been ill for six years and a severe cold resulted in his death. While here he made many friends who will mourn his loss and extend sympathy to the grief-stricken family.

Woman's Cries Arouse Entire Neighborhood

A woman's scream of "murder" is the only thing of importance on the police blotter this morning.

At 1:30 a. m. today residents near Arden avenue and Brand boulevard heard a woman screaming, "Help! Police! Murder!"

Looking out of the windows they saw a young woman running away from a man, whom evidently she nad scared by her outcry.

Officer C. A. Blix of the police department rushed to the scene with James A. Browne of the Glendale Patrol & Fire Dispatch and Ira J. Herbert of the same organization joined in the search which revealed neither man nor woman who caused the disturbance.

H. L. Brown of 406 North Maryland avenue, who with other southern California Christian Endeavor representatives attended a Northern California Christian Endeavor convention last week, reports that the northern representatives were singing about Glendale as hard as if they had been Glendale residents.

The Glendale Christian Endeavor has worked up a great deal of enthusiasm all over the state concerning this city and the convention to be held here June 25 to 29. In a short time a Glendale advertising plan, that has never been equaled in the history of this city, will be launched.

A song practice of the Glendale district endeavorers will be held Tuesday night at the Presbyterian church to rehearse songs which will be used to boost Glendale at the Los Angeles County C. E. convention at Whittier March 18 to 20.

INDEPENDENT MAIL SERVICE ONE OF REQUIREMENTS

NEW EXECUTIVE HAS PERSONAL FRIENDS AMONG SENATORS TO FURTHER PROJECT

In an interview with Congressman Walter F. Lineberger at Long Beach this morning, James M. Rhoades, secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce, stated this afternoon that the former told him he would do "everything in his power to obtain an independent postoffice for Glendale.

The congressman leaves for the capitol Thursday and asked that a record of all which has been done be forwarded him with a petition signed by 1000 business men and residents demanding immediate action in the matter. This, Mr. Rhoades assured him, would be done.

James M. Rhoades, Glendale Chamber of Commerce secretary who was appointed the last of the week, is making arrangements in Long Beach today for his removal to this city.

Mr. Rhoades will be in Glendale late today and actively engage in the secretaryship commencing tomorrow, when he will meet with the directors in their regular weekly session. On Wednesday he will be introduced to the members at the Forum luncheon at the Masonic Temple at 12:15 o'clock.

In speaking of his appointment, Mr. Rhoades stated to a representative of The Glendale Evening News that when he came to southern California several weeks ago from Everett, Wash., and looked over the field, Glendale appealed to him on account of its possibilities. He visited this city about two weeks ago and at that time determined to make this his future home.

To Make Survey of City

Realizing that the reorganized Chamber of Commerce would undoubtedly need an experienced secretary he applied for the position. Addressing the directors last Tuesday night he announced his intention of building a home here and becoming one of Glendale's citizens, regardless of the job.

Mr. Rhoades' first task will be to make a survey of the possibilities presented by this city and get first hand information on its growth. He heartily endorsed indorsed the Prosperity Week campaign being conducted by The Glendale Evening News.

Relative to civic issues, Mr. Rhoades was unable to speak on account of his recent arrival here, but when he found out that Glendale was only a branch of Los Angeles postoffice, he said:

"That shall not be. I will exert every influence to have a separate postoffice and our own federal building. I have become personally acquainted with Major Walter Lineberger, the new congressman from this district, and I am sure that he will aid us in obtaining what Glendale has been fighting for.

"After Congressman Lineberger gets the independent postoffice bill before the House, I have personal friends who are senators that will take pleasure in attending to the matter in the senate. There is no question but what Glendale can have and will have an independent postoffice."

Mrs. A. R. Hildreth of 217 Milford street was the Sunday guest of Mrs. G. D. Burbach of Los Angeles. This evening she will entertain at dinner Mr. and Mrs. Robert McJennett of Los Angeles.

Members of Chapter L, P. E. O., are taking great interest in the election of officers for the coming year which will take place at their regular meeting Wednesday, to be held at the home of Mrs. Arthur Brown.

A meeting is being planned for next Friday evening, March 11, to be held at the branch library building, South Brand boulevard, to discuss the city charter, at which time T. W. Watson and other speakers will be present.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Towner of Muskegon, Michigan, who are spending some time with Mrs. Towner's mother, Mrs. Emma Lund of 412 Oak street, spent the week-end at San Diego as the guests of relatives of Mr. Towner.

Mrs. Sidney Simon of 500 North Isabel street and Miss Alice Gray Beach of 633 North Brand boulevard entertained at the home of the latter Saturday afternoon in honor of Mrs. Wayne Smith. Twenty-four of her friends were present.

Walter W. Jones of 430 Vine street leaves tomorrow for Chicago on a business trip. He will be in charge of a train of lumber merchants who are returning from a convention at San Francisco. They will stop at the Grand Canyon en route.

Miss Evangeline Quackenbush, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. J. A. Quackenbush of 1119 East Colorado street, will take part in a concert tonight at a Los Angeles hotel. This is her second season with the Women's Symphony Orchestra and she enjoys her work very much.

Glendale has an admirer in the person of A. W. Hanan who, with his wife, recently came from Minneapolis. They have a son, H. A. Hanan, who has been in Los Angeles for seven months. Mr. Hanan is anticipating engaging in some kind of mercantile business in Glendale.

L. L. Woods of East Colorado is now office manager of the Hinckley-Beach canning corporation offices in Hollywood. Mr. Woods was formerly of Indiana about 12 miles from the scene of the train disaster of a week ago. Several of the victime were intimate acquaintances of Mr. Woods.

Mrs. Virginia Morgan and daughter, Miss Marion Morgan, were dinner guests yesterday of Mr. and Mrs. E. C. Tripp of 204 South Orange street, former friends in Kennewick, Washington. Mrs. Morgan and daughter have been wintering in Santa Monica and are leaving for Washington tomorrow.

Daniel Campbell reports that his touring car, which was stolen Thursday night, was found Saturday on Orange Grove avenue by householders, who notified the police. He thinks that someone wanted it for a ride home, not for its intrinsic value. At least that is what he inferred when he told of having the checkered-hood "flivver" home again.

Arthur G. Lindley, the architect, got a message from Reedley, 222 miles north of here, to come up and straighten out some matters concerning a building under way up there. Consulting the time-table he found out that it would require 12 hours each way to go by train. He concluded the auto could beat that time. So he started out Saturday, 5 a. m., reached his destination, spent two and one-half hours there, turned his car for home and reached Glendale a few minutes after 11 p. m., making 444 miles in the same day.

MAJOR M. P. VESTAL OFFERS SERVICES TO GUARDSMEN

REGULAR ARMY OFFICER AND RESIDENT OF GLENDALE TO GIVE INSTRUCTION

Major M. P. Vestal, United States army regular, who has charge of the Reserve Officers' Training corps at Loyola college, Los Angeles, and is a resident of Glendale, has offered his services as instructor to the Fifth Separate Infantry company, National Guards, "Glendale's own," of which Captain Thomas D. Watson is commander.

Assisted by a regular army sergeant, Major Vestal will start instruction this coming Thursday night and be with the local guardsmen at each drill. A number of Springfield rifles will be borrowed from the Los Angeles armory to enable a squad of eight men to drill each night until the ordnance requisitioned arrive here.

High on Efficiency

It is expected that with Major Vestal's instructing the men, Glendale's company will be well in the front on efficiency in drill and in handling their rifles. The Major is a graduate of the Fort Sill army officers' school.

Just as soon as the guardsmen here receive their rifles, target practice will be held on the Glendale range in Sycamore canyon. Especial attention is being given parade formations with a view of the company taking part in Decoration Day exercises, according to Captain Watson.

Dinner Party Held In J. R. Mitchell Home

Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Mitchell entertained at their home, 205 South Verdugo Road, Saturday night at an elaborate 6 o'clock dinner. Sweet peas and fresias made a beautiful centerpiece for the table. The guests were old friends of the family and included Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Lincoln and son Leigh of York, Nebraska; Miss Jessie Lickel, Miss Maude Lickel and Miss Hazel Lickel of Hollywood.

Progressive League Meets Tuesday Night

The first regular meeting of the West Glendale Progressive league will be held in the High school auditorium Tuesday night, March 8, at 7:45 o'clock, President Isabel Barrett announced today.

Officer Is Slain In Battle With Bandits

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Motorcycle Policeman J. C. Jennings was shot and killed in a running revolver fight with two automobile bandits at Pomona early today, according to word received at the sheriff's office here.

Jennings was attempting to overtake the bandits, who an hour previously had robbed a garage at Rialto. An exchange of shots followed and one of the bullets struck Jennings in the breast. His motorcycle swerved and plunged into a ditch. Deputy sheriffs traced the murderers as far as El Monte and their capture was expected momentarily.

Physicians Striving To Save Two Lives

LOS ANGELES, March 7.—Physicians at the receiving hospital today were striving to save the life of Mrs. Daisy A. King Rose, 38, a telephone operator, shot three times last night by her husband, Louis, 40, who then killed himself at their home.

Domestic troubles led to the tragedy, police were told.

After shooting her twice through the neck and again in the abdomen, Rose, an electrician, entered another room where Mrs. Emma Gilmore, 70, his wife's mother, was frantically attempting to telephone to the police. "Never mind, grandma; I guess I'll end it all,' 'he said as he placed the revolver to his head and fired. The familly came here from Ohio several years ago.

PUT THROUGH TEST

Some visitors who were being shown over a lunatic asylum inquired of their guide what method was employed to discover when the lunatics were sufficiently recovered to leave. "Well," replied he, "it's this way. We have a big trough of water, and we turn on the tap. We leaye it running and tell 'em to bail out the water with pails until they've emptied the trough."

"How does that prove it?" asked one of the visitors.

"Well," said the guide, "them as ain't idiots turns off the tap."

MINUTE MEN MAKE BRIEF ADDRESSES AT SERVICES

L. C. LEEDS AND KENNETH CRIST SPEAKERS; LARGE AUDIENCE AT METHODIST CHURCH

The services at the Methodist church Sunday were well attended. Minute men made addresses at each meeting with fine effect. L. C. Leeds and R. Kenneth Crist were the speakers. This custom will continue until the great Union evangelistic meeting under Rev. John E. Brown which begins April 17.

At the morning hour Sunday, the large audience observed the holy communion. In the evening Dr. Crist preached on the "Problem of Life." His address was especially directed to the young people. Several rules for successfully working out life's problem were given. First it was declared that it means work. Men work out that which God works in. The second requirement is to know how. Many hard workers fail because they do not know how to get results. It is just as necessary to believe that it can be done. Healthy optimism is still at a premium. No one ever does a great thing until he thinks he can. God sets every man at the task—the task of making a life, the pastor said.

DICKENS' OFFICE BOY LIVING

Charles Dickens' office boy William Edrupt, is still living. He is a gate keeper at the Temple in London. In the March Bookman, Catherine Van Dyke gives the story of an interview with the old man, who is proud that he never read a book his master wrote. Among other stories is one of attempted bribery. There was much excitement in London over "Mrs. Lirriper's Lodgings," which was appearing serially in a London magazine. One man came to the office boy to offer sixpence if he would disclose the end of the story. "Mr. Dickens," the old man said, "gave me three shillings a week, and every time my ma had a new baby (which was often) he advanced me a shilling, but having to give it home, I could only keep twopence a week for myself. My master knew this, and that the sixpence the man offered to me for telling the end of the story meant a lot to me; but when I told him the man wanted to sell out the happenings to others, he said, 'Come here, William, boy,' and he took me on his knee. 'I'll give you sixpence now for yourself, and I'll give you this penny with a hole in it if you promise me to keep it for good and ever, but you tell that scoundrel that I say the end of the story is this—they all die sooner or later.' "

ASKED TO RETURN TO PRISON

LEAVENWORTH, Kan.—Because he could not trust himself, William Black, technical parole violator, will be returned to the federal prison to serve a court-martial sentence of five years. Black was convicted in France, but has been paroled since October of last year. He has been working in North Carolina, but recently notified prison officials to return him to prison because he "could not trust himself.' ' Black was a model prisoner, according to A. V. Anderson, warden.

WOULD BAN "BOY BANKERS"

SPRINGFIELD, Ill.—William Dalton's theft of $772,000 in bonds from the Northern Trust company of Chicago, which made a sensational new chapter in the history of American bank robberies, has started the wheels of legislation to prevent banks from employing young boys to handle large sums of money. Representative Charles Gregory of Champaign introduced in the house a bill making it a misdemeanor for banks to permit minors to handle convertible securities valued at more than $10,000.

Sunday Services in the Churches of Glendale

SCOPE AND VALUE OF PRAYER TOLD BY REV. EDMONDS

HELPFUL SERMON DELIVERED YESTERDAY TO AUDIENCE AT PRESBYTERIAN CHURCH

A resume of the sermon by Rev. W. E. Edmonds at the Presbyterian church yesterday follows:

"Now when Daniel knew that the writing was signed, he went into his house, and his windows being opened in his chamber toward Jerusalem, he kneeled upon his knees three times a day, and prayed, and gave thanks before his God, as he did aforetime." Daniel 6:10.

At this time Daniel, with his people exiled in Babylon, was a wonderful old man, his supreme worth in abilities and in peerless character having met with deserved valuation and honor in the highest position of trust, where he stood above all others. Jealousy sought to find a point of attack, but could find none save in the point of his religion. So a decree was framed up to forbid for a time any prayer save to the king. In face of this Daniel steadfastly pursued his prayer life. This brought the penalty of being cast into the lions' den, but there God saved him with a great triumph; and the prayer life went on unbroken. The picture then is a great man on his knees. As sure as God is on His throne, this is the way of true greatness. The way to get up to the top is to go on your knees.

Now, does it pay to pray? Does it pay, these days, when everybody is hurrying?

Prayer pays commercially.. Paul said, "I beseech you to be quiet, and attend to your own business." It is for lack of this quietnes that many a man is disabled for his day's duty. You can have more wisdom, you can do better planning and execute better business, if you pray. You need to get the Lord's will about the things you do.

Prayer Has Health Value

Prayer has a physiological, a health value. Dr. Hyslop, the eminent English specialist, said that he would in all cases concerned with suffering of the nerves and mind, give first place to the habit of prayer. The mothers all fussed up and worn with the stress of living, need to take time to pray, and so save nervous wreckage.

Prayer pays intellectually. The act of praying is the very highest energy of which the mind is capable. Prayer has a moral value. Many a soul, even though not a Christian, has been kept from evil by a childhood habit of prayer. Are you parents sure of the safety of your children if you send them out without prayer? It isn't fair to them to do so.

It pays to pray because of the spiritual power. You need the reinforcement as you go of communion with your Maker. The soul value is the greatest of all:

1. For guidance. This is a time of great uncertainty. Things clear up by prayer.

2. For support. In our heavy trials, God either takes the burden away or strengthens us to it. How can one stand the tragedies of life without prayer?

3. For assurance. We face life, immortality, eternity. Many a one would have been saved from doubt if he had but gone to God for himself.

4. Inspiration for service. We are prone to get weary. The great strength in service is in being saturated with prayer.

Do you know anything about prayer without ceasing?

VALUE OF SUFFERING IS RELATED BY DR. H. C. FUNK

MINISTRY OF SORROW IS TOPIC OF SERMON SUNDAY AT LUTHERAN CHURCH

"The Ministry of Sorrow" was the theme of Dr. H. C. Funk at the First Lutheran church yesterday. Here is a resume:

Text, 119th Psalm, at the 71st verse. "It is good for me that I have been afflicted." Dearly beloved: As touching the theme of "The Ministry of Sorrow, or the Value of Suffering in Religion," it will be well for us to consider what it cost to establish our faith. For the chosen people of God it required forty years of suffering and discipline in the wilderness, under the greatest lawgiver that ever lived. Not only so, but it also took eighty years to prepare the lawyer to become the leader of a mighty nation. And with what murmurings and complainings, and with what backslidings the work was finally accomplished no one but God can tell.

It took four thousand years to lay the foundation and make ready for the coming of the Lord. And when He came it cost the lives of all but one of His chosen apostles, while his followers were hunted down, they were cruelly mocked and scourged, cast into bonds and imprisoned. Yea, more: "They were stoned, they were sawn asunder, were tempted, were slain with the sword; they wandered about in sheepskins and goatskins; being destitute, afflicted, tormented; (of whom the world was not worthy:) they wandered in deserts and in mountains, and in dens and caves of the earth."

Peter, the leader of the twelve, was crucified. Paul, the greatest of them all, became a tentmaker and a follower of the meek and lowly Nazarene. Christ, the Pearl of Great Price, was perfected through suffering, and we become like Him through suffering. Whatever the fiery trial may be through which we are called to pass, however long the suffering and severe the pain, if likeness to our Saviour result, we can say, "It is good for me that I have been afflicted."

HOW LONG THEY STAY ALIVE

A recent test to determine how long seeds remain alive showed interesting results. Seed corn gathered in 1908 and germinated in 1920 was very low in vitality, the grains producing very weak sprouts as compared with one-year-old corn. Tests also prove that seeds have low vitality when gathered during years of excessive humidity and rainfall. Oats and wheat seeds gathered in 1915 show extremely low vitality.

INAUGURATION TALK IS USED AS TOPIC BY REV. COLE

TEXT KISSED BY HARDING AS HE TOOK OATH APPLIED BY CHRISTIAN PASTOR

Using the inauguration address of President Warren G. Harding as his sermon topic, the Rev. Clifford A. Cole, pastor of the Central Christian church, last night, held the close attention of his hearers by his application of the text kissed by the executive when he took his oath on March 4.

A men's chorus featured the evening's program, this being an innovation which will become a permanent acquisition to the church, according to the Reverend Cole. The booming voices of the male singers did much to stir enthusiasm in the ensemble numbers.

The morning's sermon was a memorial to the life of Archibald McLean, who for forty years was president of the Foreign Christian Missionary society.

Must Have Convictions

Pointing out the religious significance in President Harding's inaugural, the Rev. Cole outlined the necessity of great men having convictions. Such leaders who do have the moral fibre such as displayed by the new president should be honored by all, he said.

The Rev. Cole's text was the same that Harding kissed, Micah 6:8, which reads:

"He hath shewed thee, O man, what is good; and what doth the Lord require of thee to do but to do justy and to love mercy and to walk humbly with thy God."

KIPLING STARTS PUBLISHER

Rudyard Kipling was the unconscious factor in starting Merton C. Robbins, the publisher of the Iron Age and president of the Associated Business Papers, incorporated, on the way to fame and fortune, says Mr. Robbins in a recent interview. In the days when Kipling kept his estate in Vermont, young Robbins came over from his father's farm adjoining and did odd jobs for the author; sometimes he even acted as coachman. One day the boy discovered that he could sell things, so he determined to write life insurance policies and to sell the first one to Mr. Kipling. It was not easy to approach the great writer, but Robbins was very much in earnest. He found Mr. Kipling a kindly and encouraging customer and sold him a $10,000 policy. With the $126 commission, more money than he had ever had before, young Robbins invested $35 in a dress suit to wear at a prize speaking contest, won the $15 prize and so started his successful career on the commission of Mr. Kipling's policy.

Cash Awards Arouse Keen Interest In Prosperity Week Letter Writing

SEND IN ARTICLES IMMEDIATELY IS ANNOUNCED

GET ACTIVE AT ONCE, PLACE IDEAS ON PAPER, THEN SEND TO THE NEWS

Tremendous interest is being evinced by Glendale people in the celebration of Prosperity Week.

Already the results of The Glendale Evening News' announcement that it would award $50 in cash prizes for the best letters on "Glendale's Prosperity" have been evidenced on the streets and in the homes of the city.

People have started to think and talk and realize the prosperous conditions which surround this vicinity. The city papers have taken up the good work and a great deal of publicity is bound to result.

Will Be Work for All

With its building permits in the neighborhood of $450,000, there can be no doubting that there will be work for all here. With its banks showing wonderful increases in deposits there need be no fear of unsettled financial conditions.

Lumber prices, climatic and labor conditions are now favorable to the builder. Living costs have hit the rock bottom at the local stores and groceries and clothing material are as reasonable as could be asked. In fact, it is a "bull" market and prices are apt to rise. Then is when the wild scramble of buying will begin.

And "Buying at Home is the Best Policy."

When you buy from the local merchants you increase prosperity just that much. You put money in circulation where it will get back to you quickest. So BUY AT HOME.

And buy heavily today, for the bargains were never better. Glendale grocers are offering goods at pared profits. The other stores, such as furniture, hardware, furnishings, etc., have received shipments of spring and summer lines which they can afford to sell at pre-war prices.

That's why PROSPERITY IS HERE.

While you are considering the subject, just remember that by sitting down tonight and writing 200 to 300 words on "Glendale's Prosperity" you have an opportunity to win $25 or $15 or $10, all offered by The Glendale Evening News.

Many already have sent in their letters. The one who writes most readily is the one who is apt to win the highest prize. Already the judges have been selected and they will be announced in a day or two. In another column you will find the rules for the contest.

Laundry Building Is Proposed For Burbank

A laundry is the latest corporation to be organized in Burbank's fast-growing industrial community and work will be started on the building of the plant at once with the expectation that everything will be in readiness for operation in about five or six weeks.

Stockholders and board of directors follow: John Mortis, treasurer of the Home Service company of Los Angeles; B. G. Strawser, president of the same company; M. Spazier, H. C. Boorse and R. O. Church. The company is incorporated for $50,000, $35,000 of which will be used in the construction of a thoroughly modern laundry plant on ground leased from the Carbassemo Products company, adjoining the Standard Oil company.

Defies Doctors, Dances And Then Falls Dead

GENEVA — Edgar Allan Poe's "Last Valse" story was grimly re-enacted here by Paul Treboux, son of a millionaire Swiss banker.

Taken to a sanitarium where he was being carefully nursed, owing to an enfeebled heart, the banker's son was refused permission to dance.

Despite the warning of his physicians, the youth descended to the gay ballroom and begged his fiancee to waltz with him.

With his bride-to-be he glided about the great ballroom and as the last strains of the orchestra subsided he dropped upon a sofa and died instantly.

POSE AS TAX COLLECTORS

WASHINGTON—Warning against "fake" in come tax collectors was issued today by the bureau of internal revenue. "Persons who approach taxpayers saying that they have come to collect the income tax are in every instance attempting to defraud the public," the bureau said. "In the payment of the income tax, the public is required to seek the government, and not the government the public."

Rules for Prosperity Week Contest; Read Them Carefully, Then Get Busy

In The Glendale Evening News' Prosperity Week $50 prize letter writing contest which opens today, the following rules will apply:

Subject—Glendale's Prosperity. Emphasize why and how this city outranks all others of its size in building and in business. Outline the advantages of living here. Or use statistical facts to reveal the growth of Glendale to a greater degree the figures heretofore have shown.

Rule 1—Do not write less than 200 words nor more than 300 words on the subject. Brevity lends weight to all argument.

Rule 2—Write on one side of the paper only. Write legibly. Otherwise the letters will not be considered.

Rule 3—Address all letters to Prosperity Editor, Glendale Evening News, Glendale, Calif.

Rule 4—No employe of The Glendale Evening News is eligible to compete.

Rule 7—The contest closes Saturday, March 12, at 6 p. m.

Rule 8—Right to publication of all letters received is reserved by The Glendale Evening News.

BUSINESS GOOD, IS VIEW OF OTHERS AFTER SURVEY

BETTER CONDITIONS COME BACK FAST OVER NATION; CITY CELEBRATES PROSPERITY

Under a Glendale date line, The Los Angeles Examiner this morning says:

"With building permits nearly a half million dollars this year, Glendale starts celebrating Prosperity Week. The fastest growing suburban city in Los Angeles' vicinity has just installed James M. Rhoades as secretary of its Chamber of Commerce, which boasts more than 500 members."

Situation in General

Commenting on business conditions in general, The Los Angeles Times this morning says:

"Business is coming back.

"A month ago, a nation-wide survey showed that the only place in the nation where business was good was in a fifty-mile belt around Los Angeles, and that the 'fair business' areas were few and far between, a spot here and there in the east and one or two in the west, with most of the San Joaquin valley and a part of southern California also marked 'fair.'

"Now, according to a bulletin issued by the Nation's Business, farmers are gradually bringing their produce to market, bankers are slowly 'loosening up' and extending to farmers and dealers, money and credit, the two vital factors needed to restore the situation."

High Price Paid For Rembrandt Painting

NEW YORK — "A Portrait of a Lady," a noted painting by Rembrandt, has just been acquired by Duveen brothers of New York and London, of which Sir Joseph Duveen is a member, for the reported price of 2,200,000 francs, which is considered a new record for an example of the art of the Dutch master. The portrait mysteriously disappeared in the French Revolution, and in 1863 was located in the collection of John Almutt of London. From this collection it passed into the possession of F. Nieuwenhuys and then into the collection of M. Leboeuf de Montgermont. It is understood that the Duveens purchased it from the De Montgermont collection.

The title of this famous Rembrandt is "Portrait de femme agee la main drite tenant un binocle et posee sur un livre place sur ses genoux." It bears Rembrandt's signature and is dated 1634.

UNWILLING TO LEAVE THEM

Many of the Armenian girls who were forced into Turkish harems during the war and became the involuntary wives of Turks and Arabs are now unwilling to leave their husbands, according to entente and American officials who are attempting to restore them to their families. Many fear the hardships of the old life among their fellow countrymen who knew of their servitude, and others have become attached to their present husbands, and they declare they prefer existing conditions to those prior to the war. Where the women have children the complexity of the situation is even greater.

BUSINESS DISTRICT LIKES PROSPERITY WEEK PROJECT

LETTERS EXPECTED TO SHOW GLENDALE'S WEALTH AND MANY RESOURCES

With the distribution of The Glendale Evening News Saturday afternoon—and early, too—there were hundreds of Glendale people in the business district commenting on the Prosperity Week. One merchant declared:

"It's a bully idea. We don't know how prosperous we are. Some of these people are going to wake us up with their letters on Glendale's wealth and business and resources. Glad The Evening News is putting this idea across."

A city official commented as follows:

"Prosperity Week is a good thing. It is exactly what Glendale needs to open the eyes of all to the tremendous increase in population and commercial life."

INAUGURATION DAY OBSERVED LOCALLY

JAMES M. RHOADES PLACED IN OFFICE ON SAME DAY AS PRESIDENT HARDING

James M. Rhoades was inaugurated secretary of the Glendale Chamber of Commerce on Inauguration Day, March 4.

With a Republican administration heralded as prosperity and with an experienced commercial secretary locally, this city should make some rapid strides in the next few months.

At least that's Jesse Smith's view. And he's one the board of directors of the C. of C. and ought to know.

Girl Loses Arms But She Has 150 Mothers

FAIRMONT, W. Va.—Little Rosie Sacola, aged ten, has 150 mothers. Rosie lost both arms at the shoulder when she swung on a live wire near the Catherine Coal company's plant last July. Later she became a heroine when she submitted to a skin-grafting operation at the hospital, that another little companion might get well. She volunteered for the ordeal, too. She has been adopted by the Woman's Business and Professional club of Fairmont and will be educated and supplied with artificial arms. She is still at the hospital, teaching other children how to smile.

SAYS CHILDREN ARE UNDERFED

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J.—About 20 per cent of America's school children are not properly nourished, Mary G. McCormick, New York state supervisor of nutrition of school children, said in an address before the American Home Economics association, which is meeting in connection with the National Education association. The remedy, Miss McCormick held, is to teach all children what their actual food requirements are. "Intensive work should be done in the first school years of a child's life to establish him in good food habits," she said.

GERMANY DECLINES TERMS; INVASION FORCES READY

ALLIED TROOPS WILL TAKE UP MARCH IF TEUTONS DO NOT RECEDE FROM POSITION

preparations to leave London tomorrow at 2:30 p. m.

Proposals Are Presented

The forenoon session closed after Von Simons had presented the German proposals and Lloyd George showed his disapproval of them.

"I am afraid I must tell you there is no doubt as to the answer the allies are forced to give," Lloyd George said.

"I think it is desirable, owing to the gravity of the situation, that we adjourn until 4:30, when we can give a carefully considered answer."

The Germans modified their original rejection of the allied demands with the following counter proposals:

1. Agreement to make five of the yearly payments demanded by the allies. (The allies demanded payments extending over forty-two years.)
2. Acceptance of the twelve per cent tax on exports, provided that Germany be permitted to float a loan; that Upper Silesia remain German and that the commercial restrictions against Germany be abolished.

Von Simons declared that owing to a divergence of views among the Germans it was necessary to abandon the idea of fixing a total for the indemnity.

They had decided, he said, to revert to the idea of a provisional arrangement providing for payments over a period of from three to five years.

Not Practical, Is Claim

The allied proposal for a twelve per cent tax on German exports is not practicable, he declared, but the Germans will accept it.

Von Simons said if the allies would accept the proposal the Germans would assign their experts to co-operate with the allies, draft an agreement, proceeding as soon as possible thereafter to fix payments for a thirty-year period.

He declared it would be necessary to ask a week's delay if the allies insist on fixing the indemnity total now.

Quits Cell To Argue Own Case In Court

NEW YORK—Isaac Edward Ferguson, a lawyer from Chicago, who is serving a term in Sing Sing prison following his conviction on a charge of criminal anarchy, argued his petition for a certificate of reasonable doubt, in person, before Supreme Court Justice Burr. The court reserved decision.

Ferguson was convicted before Justice Weeks, having been prosecuted by Assistant District Attorney Rorke. He said he had sued out the application for the writ in the hope of being released from prison pending an appeal to the state and federal courts, if need be.

He contended that Justice Weeks had made errors in admitting testimony, that the statute under which he was convicted is unconstitutional, and that he was deprived of his liberty for "heresy," having given expression to ideas that were not acceptable to persons in authority.

Assistant District Attorney Rorke asserted that the defendant had a fair trial. He acted as his own attorney, and had ample opportunity to present his defense.

COUNTIES IN WAR FOR CLEAN ROADS

MOTORISTS ARE URGED THAT HIGHWAYS BE KEPT IN BETTER CONDITION

Southern California counties are lining up in the war against motorists and others who insist on cluttering up the highways with all sorts of refuse.

Officials of the Automobile Club of southern California have endorsed the efforts of each county in the state which has expressed its determination to do away with the unsightly heaps of cans, glass and rubbish of all sorts which are beginning to appear along some of the most beautiful drives in the state.

From Imperial and San Diego counties on the south to San Luis Obispo on the north, complaints have been registered at automobile club county offices by motorists visiting California who complain that their pleasure in touring is materially curtailed by the epidemic of rubbish heaps breaking out in the southern part of the state.

Begins Active Work

Riverside county is beginning active work in paving the way toward the prosecution of corporations, individuals and others who are found using the roads as means for getting rid of everything they don't want at home.

Automobile club officials declare that individual motorists are not the worst offenders in the wholesale dumping of rubbish which is becoming noticeable. They do say, however, that motorists succeed in making the roads unsightly in the vicinity of picnic grounds and in some of the canyons by throwing lunch refuse right and left, but the main efforts will be made against larger offenders who dump rubbish on a wholesale scale.

There are laws in effect, at this time, in the state which cover this type of offence and the counties are digging those laws out of the archives for the purpose of prosecution.

REPUBLICANS ARE GREATLY IN LEAD

NEW FACES IN CONGRESS; OLD ONES MISSING; G. O. P. IS FAR IN MAJORITY

WASHINGTON, March 7 — The new congress, which will legislate during the first half of the Harding administration, should uphold all Harding's policies in spite of opposion, if party preponderance were the only test. For in the house the republicans are 300 strong, while the democrats have but 132 seats. One is held by a socialist, and two are vacant.

In the senate, there are fifty-nine republicans and only thirty-seven democrats. That body got into action today, though the house will not meet until the extra session is called. The senate was called into special session to confirm Harding's appointees to cabinet and other positions, and it is expected that its session will last a week or ten days at the longest.

G. O. P. Not So Compact

But though the republicans are much stronger numerically than the democrats, they are not so compact. There are more groups, shades of opinion and jealousies among them. The first task, probably, of the G. O. P. leaders in both houses will be to unify so far as possible their forces, either by pacifying or disciplining the insurgents.

Many new faces appear in both houses, and long familiar ones are gone. Champ Clark, probably the best loved man in the house, died last Wednesday. Miss Alice Robertson of Muskogee will take her seat as the second woman to sit in the house. W. Bourke Cockran of New York, a former member noted for his Celtic wit and powerful oratory, will again make "the welkin ring."

He Looks Like Lincoln

In the senate, Larry Sherman of Illinois, the man who looks like Lincoln; Charles Thomas of Colorado, the drollest wit in the senate; George Chamberlain of Oregon, a much loved man among his colleagues; Thomas P. Gore, the blind senator from Oklahoma, and others who have served long will be missing after today. A number of senatorial golf foursomes were broken up by the November election, and the hunt for new partners is on.

WHEREAS, The Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale at its regular meeting held on the 13th day of January, 1921, by a vote of more than two-thirds of all its members, duly passed and adopted a resolution determining that the public interest and necessity demand the acquisition, construction and completion by said city of Glendale of those four certain municipal improvements hereinafter in this ordinance described, and that the estimated cost of each of said municipal improvements is as hereinafter stated and is, and will be, too great to be paid out of the ordinary annual income and revenue of said city:

NOW, THEREFORE, The Board of Trustees of the city of Glendale do ordain as follows:

SECTION 1. That a special election be held and the same is hereby called to be held in the city of Glendale on the 29th day of March, 1921, for the purpose of submitting to the qualified voters of said city the four several propositions of incurring an indebtedness and issuing bonds of said city therefor, in the amounts and for the purposes set forth in said resolution and as hereinafter stated.

That the amount of the principal of said indebtedness to be incurred therefor is the sum of $100,000.00 Dollars, and that the maximum rate of interest to be paid on such indebtedness shall be six per centum per annum, payable semi-annually, which rate shall not be exceeded in the issuance of bonds for such indebtedness. Said first proposition of incurring indebtedness shall be designated on the ballots used at said election by the following question, to-wit:

"Shall the City of Glendale incur a bonded debt of $100,000.00 for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing pipes, pipe lines, transmission mains and suitable fittings and attachments therefor in connection with the development, extension and operation of the municipal water works and system?"

That if the said first proposition for incurring indebtedness so submitted at said election receives the requisite number of votes, to-wit: two-thirds of the votes of the qualified voters voting at such election, bonds of said City in the amount of One Hundred Thousand ($100,000.00) Dollars shall be issued and sold for the purpose of acquiring, constructing and completing said municipal improvement; both principal and interest of said bonds shall be payable in gold coin of the United States of the present standard of weight and fineness.

SECTION 3. The second proposition of incurring an indebtedness to be submitted at said election shall be as follows:

Rockets With Oil To Calm Angry Ocean

LONDON — Rockets that scatter oil, with the object of calming the sea, were recently tested at Brighton.

"You fire the rockets from the ship into the wind; oil drifts back around the boat, calming the water to a certain extent over a wide area," said Commander A. L. Strange, the inventor.

"One can only at present put oil down where one is," he said. "The tests were not very successful, owing to small mechanical defects, but I hope to get over these."

The rockets, it is claimed, can be used from the foreshore to enable a lifeboat to be launched more easily, as well as to aid the lifeboat to approach a distressed vessel with less danger.

LOCAL DELEGATION VISITS BIBLE CLASS AT LONG BEACH

LARGEST ORGANIZATION OF ITS KIND IN WORLD ATTENDED BY GLENDALE MEN

If anyone thinks that Glendale men cannot get up early on a Sunday they should have seen the start made from the First Methodist Episcopal church yesterday morning at 8 o'clock for Long Beach to visit the largest Bible class in the world. Six auto loads got off promptly, going by way of the new Ivanhoe boulevard into Los Angeles and then down Figueroa to Slausson and on down. Two rain storms were encountered, one at Walnut Park and the other on the outskirts of Long Beach.

The men's Bible class of Long Beach has grown so that it has moved from one place to another and larger, until now it is held in the Municipal auditorium. It is conceded to be the largest men's Bible class in the world. When the visitors arrived at 9:15, a spirited song service was under way, to the familiar tune of "My Old Kentucky Home." Then followed "Smile, Smile, Smile," "There's a Long, Long Trail," "Marching to Zion," "Nearer, My God, to Thee."

The chairman greeted all the newcomers after first asking them to rise. He then called out the Glendale chairman, Rev. Edwin Hoskyn, and asked him to introduce all the Glendale "boys," after which they all sang lustily "The Gang's All Here." He then presented the cases of two families of Long Beach in financial straits and asked for an offering, which amounted to over $1200. Following a short patriotic address, a picture of President Harding was unveiled framed in American flags and on either side stood two young men, a soldier and a sailor, and beside them the Red Cross banner and the service flag with its golden star. Then at the call of the bugle all stood at attention and later joined in the patriotic pledge.

Leader Has Personality

The teacher, Rev. George Taubman, pastor of the First Christian church of Long Beach, is a man of pleasing personal appearance, with a voice combining both music and volume, and he had a message that held the unudivided attention of the 1200 men present from start to finish. The lesson was on "The Liberality of Love" or "Mary and the Alabaster Cruse of Ointment." He urged greater interest and concern for those in need. A general hand shaking closed the exercise. The Glendale men were a unit in their expressions of appreciation of all they had seen and heard.

The following were present: T. A. Wright, C. H. Bott, J. E. Phillips, C. W. Spickerman, W. A. Webber, C. E. Russell, W. G. Noland, S. C. Mustard, George E. Jeffries, W. H. Reynolds, N. W. McBryde, L. C. Pyles, C. M. Pease, T. H. Addison, L. W. Estel, W. H. Fuezz, C. D. Lusby, H. A. Wilson, J. F. Swisher, E. Hoskyn, G. T. Brewster, I. N. Howe, J. M. Henderson, F. M. Farrand, C. E. Peck, W. H. Kartz, L. L. Woods, T. L. Brown, C. H. Mott and W. F. Tower.

ELKS TO ATTEND GREAT ROUND-UP

NUMBER OF LOCAL PEOPLE TO BE PRESENT WHEN BIG BALL IS HELD

Every Elks' lodge in southern California, including Glendale B. P. O. E. No. 1289, will be represented at the Elks' round-up and ball to be given on the stage of the Brunton studios, Hollywood, Saturday night, March 26, in preparation of the Elks' Grand Lodge reunion to be held in Los Angeles July 11 to 17.

It was necessary to draft the largest moving picture stage in the world to take care of what probably will be the largest grand ball ever given in southern California.

Many members of the Glendale lodge are making preparations to attend the big event.

Airplane Muffler Is Invented By European

WASHINGTON—An airplane muffler has been invented in Switzerland which has considerable practical value, according to a report received by the army air service from Major H. S. Burwell, commanding officer of the air station at Weissenthurm in the Coblenz area. It does not overheat, and reduces the motor noise to the extent that conversation can easily be carried on between pilot and passengers in the plane. By use of a suction fan the efficiency of the motor is not impaired through back pressure of exhaust gases. Major Burwell recommends that the air service purchaser construct several types of this muffler for experimental purposes.

SEES SUNSHINE AND SHADOWS IN SHADE OF SMALL CITY

GLENDALE MAN, IN BURBANK, NOTICES MANY THINGS THAT RECALL VILLAGE DAYS

"In the Shadow of a Booming Town" would make a fitting title for what a Glendale man noticed in Burbank Saturday afternoon.

For Burbank is just at that stage where one can't say it is urban or suburban, for its both. Here's what was noticed and see if you can't recall something similar "back east:"

Two pretty girls in outing attire—shirts, breeches, puttees—walked along San Fernando Road in the business center and, naturally, they created some little comment—there.

A widow in her weeds and with her daughter walked from store to store settling accounts left by her late lamented husband. Which did not create comment, but it was plain that a sympathetic heart beat heavily for one who by her dress and forlorn mien will likely have to face the world alone at an age where little is left in life but drudgery.

Mutes "Talk" and Birds Sing

Two deaf and dumb mutes sat at the Pacific Electric station engaged in a digit discourse that was as still as the residence section surrounding, with the exception of the chatter from the mocking birds in nearby pepper trees—the birds chattering because some of their favorite boughs had been sawed off and carried away by the city forestry department.

Around the corner from the business district an old wind-mill whirled with the evening breeze from the ocean as the rays of the setting sun threw shadows from the business blocks to the west.

A ploughboy plodded by the stores with his best girl on his arm, wending his way from a tiresome day in the nearby fields to an humble cottage—a typical Cotter's Saturday Night scene brought up to date—with apologies to Robert Burns.

Prepared for Sunday Outing

And another youth was rushing home with his new Sunday-go-to-meeting suit in a big box under his arm, while his shirt and jumper showed him to be one of the great army of workers who form the backbone of the nation.

After all, the jazz and the pathos, the love and the misfortune and the enthusiasm teach a lesson that can't be told. A person has to live and live out in a town like Burbank or Glendale to know himself,. or as some philosopher has tersely put it:

"Know thy neighbor if thou wouldst know thyself."

New Situation Found For De Mille Picture

Dangerous romance, highly emotional moments and a brand new screen situation are embodied in William De Mille's very pleasing and skillfully presented production via Paramount, "Midsummer Madness," from Cosmo Hamilton's latest novel, "His Friend and His Wife," and which is being shown as the feature offering at the Palace Grand today and tomorrow. It proved most pleasing to Sunday audiences.

The romance is between a husband and another man's wife, and to make matters worse, both the husbands and wives have been lifelong, intimate friends. In due time, the romantic pair realize their guilt and turn back, but not until the seed of scandal has been sown by a gossiping society woman. Then come disclosures and confessions and some gripping complications, all of which serve to make this one of the strongest and most entertaining society dramas of the season. Conrad Nagel and Lois Wilson play the erring husband and wife, while Jack Holt and Lila Lee are the wronged ones.

"Striking Models" is the comedy presentation while Nils Gilliam and the Palace Grand orchestra play "Angel Face" by Herbert as the overture. It is music equal to the pictures.

COYOTE GOES TO CHURCH

GREEN ELM, Kan.—Finding all avenues of retreat cut off by rapidly closing lines of men engaged in a wolf drive here, a large coyote sought the refuge of the church, and not in vain. Rev. John Ennis was in the midst of an earnest appeal for Christian work and Sabbath observance when the coyote bounded through the open door and up the main aisle. The startled pastor and congregation saw the frightened animal dash to a place of safety in a corner back of the pulpit behind the church organ. As the church members had bitterly opposed Sunday wolf drives, of which there had been several, the pastor calmly suggested that the church-going coyote be given protection. The round-up was in a field at the edge of which stands the church. It ended in complete failure. The coyote was left in the church all day and at dusk a deacon opened the door and the animal departed as hastily as he had arrived.

PUBLIC'S VIEWS ON PURCHASING GAS PLANT SOUGHT

ACTION OF TWO YEARS AGO IS RECALLED BY STATE BODY; OPINIONS ARE WANTED

Inasmuch as the State Railroad commission has called the city of Glendale's attention to the fact that over two years ago it sought to have a valuation placed on the Southern California Gas company's equipment in this city with a view of purchasing same,, the Board of Trustees at their last meeting instructed City Manager T. W. Watson to look into the situation again and find out what the public desires.

While it is Mr. Watson's belief that the public service department of the city at this time has about all it can handle in the water and electric problems of this rapidly-growing community, he believes that the citizens should express their views on the gas question.

Seeks Views of Citizens

Therefore, he asks those who have any ideas on the subject to get in touch with him and he will present them or their views before the Board of Trustees this coming Thursday night.

In this manner the Board will be able to answer the railroad commission's request for further information.

Mr. Watson is also preparing a report for the trustees on the water development and distributing situation, with a view of establishing a new policy regarding the city's policy of replacement and extension of lateral mains.

BUILDING RECORDS SHOW PROSPERITY

NUMBER OF IMPROVEMENTS ARE UNDER WAY; NEW FACTORY SECURED, IS REPORT

Among the major improvements in the building line at Burbank are the First National bank which is being remodeled, the front being done in marble; the First Methodist church, which is nearing completion, and ground has been broken for Walker Brothers' business block on San Fernando Road. The latter gentlemen are well known in Glendale.

It is rumored that Burbank has won another factory which will add a large amount to that city's industrial payroll. Mr. Vanderwater of Glendale last week staked out the lines for the first unit of the U. S. Compression Inner Tube company plant at the corner of San Fernando Road and Laurel avenue, just inside of the Burbank boundary. It is expected to get the factory operating in six months' time.

Volcano Scenes Full Of Thrills And Beauty

The earth shuddered and a volcano swept from its scalding wrath to cleanse the Godless town of Purisima of its sins. That is a dramatic incident in the romantic tradition of South America which has been written into "The Fire Cat," the Universal photo-drama which is now playing at the Glendale theatre. This natural phenomena is depicted with startling realism in the production of which Edith Roberts is starring.

Combining this realism with the tremendous thunder of the great organ at which Madame Clement presides, the effect is astounding. But the continuity of beauty and mystery which pervades the entire picture makes it the more lovely.

Secret Caves Are Used

The secret caves which shielded Valdez, the notorious California bandit, and where he was finally captured by agents of the law, were used by the Universal players in filming some of the early scenes in "The Fire Cat."

It is good that Glendale theatregoers have opportunity again tonight to see this feature. "Happy Days" is the comedy on the program while Pathe News and Topics of the Day round out the bill.

ENTER THE ROUGED ANKLE

Introducing a new fad for milady —rouged ankles. Not content with carmine lips and blushing pink cheeks, latest fashions have decreed for ankles of a delicate pink. At Second street and Broadway, Los Angeles, the "advance guard" of Los Angeles' elite made her appearance the other day with spider-web hose and her ankles tinted a delicate pink. Mere men gasped and halted as the vision, attired in the most fashionable garb, alighted from a street car and unblushingly made her way through the throng that quickly gathered. There was no mistake — the ankles were rouged and the young woman, according to modistes, was but the first of the thousands of young women who will take up the fad.

Glendale Lodge No. 388 meets every Thursday night at 8 o'clock at 111-A East Broadway. A hearty welcome for visiting brothers and newcomers.

SWABIA'S CURIOUS CUSTOM

In Swabia they have a curious custom aimed at reviving harmony in troubled homes.

Whenever a married couple, declaring incompatibility of temperament, seek divorce instead of appealing for conciliation to a magistrate who may or may not be a psychologist and may or may not be blessed with persuasive elegance, the authorities shut up husband and wife in a tower, allowing them only one fork and one plate between them. The result of the experiment is then patiently awaited. The story goes that, nine times out of ten, at the end of a few hours of this inconvenient regime, the two are released from the tower perfectly reconciled. Material necessities have drawn them together and effaced the sentimental misunderstandings. And they return happily to their dwelling to breakfast more comfortably in the peace of the reconstituted home, whose imperfections they no longer perceive.

Great Britain has removed the restrictions on export of dyestuffs.

LOWER TRACKS ON BRAND BOULEVARD IS CLUB DEMAND

CASA VERDUGO ASSOCIATION IN PLEA TO STATE RAILROAD BOARD FOR ACTION

The Casa Verdugo Welfare association, which holds regular monthly meetings in the northern part of this city, is getting results in its campaign for improvements. It met Tuesday night and today the following report is received from the offices of the state railroad commission:

"The Casa Verdugo Welfare association, an organization of property owners in a district immediately north of Glendale, in a complaint filed with the railroad commission today asks the commission to compel the Pacific Electric Railway company to lower its tracks on Brand boulevard. The association says that the grade at which the rails are maintained is not only unsightly but a menace.

"The complaint also applies for Stocker and Dryden street crossings."

Explaining the association's complaint, J. I. Wernette, its president, stated that the intent of the action is to obtain roadways across the tracks at the two streets, which, it is understood, are dedicated property.

Thrift To Count In Credits At School

ALAMEDA—A thrift campaign in the Alameda high school has been launched with the announcement that one-fourth unit credit will be allowed each student who becomes a regular depositor in the high school bank, and who keeps an accurate account of his or her account, which is to be submitted at the end of the term. A money prize will be offered for the best and next best essays not to exceed 500 words on "Thrift."

The high school bank will accept deposits weekly from one cent to any amount the student wishes to deposit, which will draw the customary four per cent interest. In order to secure the unit credit the student must prepare a statement of the deposits entered during the term and show the interest due thereon.

Damaged Six Months By Banana Peel Fall

NEW YORK—Banana peels, which he says have netted him "easy money," have landed Frank Smith of Philadelphia in jail in Camden for six months. He was sentenced by Recorder Stackhouse after signing a confession that he had collected damages in many sections of the country.

He was arrested in the offices of the Public Service Railway company at Camden, where he presented a damage claim for injuries in a trolley car Sunday night, when he slipped on a banana peel. At the time of the accident his insistence that his claim be settled out of court aroused suspicion.

Police say they learned Smith had presented similar claims against the Philadelphia Rapid Transit company. He is alleged to have admitted he worked with a companion, who preceded him into the cars and dropped the peel.

VITAL STATISTICS

One of the census men called at the home of a working man in New York, noted in his neighborhood as a great reader and a wiseacre for statistics. He found the man poring over an encyclopedia.

"How many children have you?" asked the census taker.

"I have just three—and that's all there will be, too," replied the man, looking up from his book of knowledge.

"All right; but why so positive?"

"According to this book here," said the man with deadly seriousness, "every fourth child born in the world is a Chinaman!"

Business Trend Is Now Back to Normal

DETROIT — "Industry and business have turned the corner and the direction now is back to normal," declared Alvan MacAuley, president and general manager of the Packard Motor Car company.

"No great big indication but a multitude of straws which show the direction of business denotes a healthy resumption of activity in the automobile industry.

"Principal of these is the buying attitude of dealers, which, of course, is nothing more than reflection of the buying attitude of the public. And the present attitude positively radiates confidence."

Airplane Hits Of German Ship Few

WASHINGTON—The German battle cruiser Goeben, while stranded for seven days on a sand bar near Constantinople during the world war was attacked 247 times by allied airplanes and hit just sixteen times by bombs weighing up to 500 pounds, Captain T. T. Craven, director of naval aviation, testified before the senate naval committee. He was replying to the larger claims of army men about military value of flying machines.

"The Goeben made some defense with guns and sand bags on her deck," Captain Craven said, "and was refloated and salvaged sucessfully. We could do a little better now, I think, on the basis of more experience and development."

WOMAN JUDGE TO HEED MEN

"If you have tears prepare to leave them home." Miss Rhea M. Whitehead, an attractive young woman who recently became superior judge at Seattle, says that woman's tears will be no argument in her court. This woman judge has somewhat revolutionary ideas regarding her sex. "That a woman is a dependent, defenseless creature is an outworn notion," she flatly declares. "I have no patience with the woman who charges her husband with non-support and asks the law to make him stand deliver. Some masculine judges are so sentimental that they convict the man before he has a chance to speak for himself. A man is going to have a chance in my court. Too many absent husbands have been convicted on the sobby testimony of a wife. I am opposed to laws which force a man to hand over a portion of his pay to a woman. When children are involved the condition is altered. The law cannot be too severe with a man who deliberately neglects his helpless offspring."

WOMEN OF CABINET FAMILY NOT FOR HIGH SOCIETY

FEMININE PORTION OF HARDING ADMINISTRATION WILL NOT QUIT 'HOMEY' WAYS

By RALPH F. COUCH
United Press Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — Biscuit making, pansy raising, good roads building, metallurgy, education and child development, rather than "society," will constitute the dominant interests of the feminine portion of the Harding cabinet.

Inquiry by the United Press revealed that while the "Mrs. Secretaries" and their families possess all the qualifications necessary to social success, the natural inclinations of most of them are distinctly "homey" or "vocational."

Under the leadership of Mrs. Harding the social side of official life in Washington is expected to show more gaiety than at any time since the Roosevelt administration because of her proven ability as a hostess, but the feeling is growing that the hopes of those who counted upon a continuous four years' round of pleasure will be dashed.

Taking the departmental posts in order of their rank, the cabinet ladies present the following pictures:

State—Mrs. Charles Evans Hughes. Wellesley graduate. One of their three children, Katherine, also an alumnus of that college. Mrs. Hughes is conservative, has simple tastes and is more devoted to educational work than society.

Treasury—Andrew W. Mellon, unmarried.

War—Mrs. John W. Weeks. She has been extremely popular in the Washington social set for many years and is considered one of the most cultured women in the capital. She is a member of several clubs, is fond of bridge and is widely traveled.

Justice—Mrs. Harry M. Daugherty. Has been an invalid for fifteen years and the new attorney general is not planning on establishing a home here.

Postoffice—Mrs. Will H. Hays. Has been a suffrage advocate "from the days when it was considered disgraceful." She accompanied her husband to the national convention in Chicago and mingled with the women there. She prefers caring for her young son to society.

Navy — Mrs. Edwin Denby. Has been active in Detroit society. She is the mother of two children.

Interior — Mrs. A. B. Fall. Although a member of capital society for years, has never been swept off her feet by it and likes Three Rivers, N. M. She is an authority on New Mexican history and is interested in good roads.

Agriculture—Mrs. Henry C. Wallace. She is a garden enthusiast and a specialist in pansy raising. She is also a famous cook. The late Theodore Roosevelt praised her breakfast biscuits while in Des Moines on his last tour. She is a member of several clubs and his six children, all grown.

Commerce—Mrs. Herbert Hoover. Attended Stanford university at the same time as her husband. She is a graduate mining engineer and has aided Hoover is preparing several important books on metallurgy. She has never cared much for society. She has two boys, now in school in California.

Labor—Mrs. James J. Davis. Social activities have been confined mostly to the women's branch of the L. O. O. M., of which organization her husband is head. She has two children.

HOSTESS HOUSE INSTALLED

Under the Y. W. C. A. of Japan a hostess house recently has been opened in Yokohama to accommodate the many English, American and other girls from countries outside of Japan, who are employed in the city. The residence is primarily for girls residing in Yokohama more or less permanently, but the clubrooms, information bureau and other services are for any women traveling through the city. An American or English hostess will be in charge. A similar center is to be opened in China, either at Canton or Shanghai.

COAL MINES OWNED BY WORKERS HELD AS BIG SUCCESS

ONE OF FEW ATTEMPTS PROVES SATISFACTORY, REPORT BY UNITED STATES BUREAU

WASHINGTON—Workers' ownership and operation of industry is being practiced successfully at Dugger, Ind., according to reports to the United States bureau of mines.

The project is the Keely mine, operated by the Dugger Mutual Coal and Mining company, from which 300 tons are produced daily. It is one of the few attempts that has worked successfully, Investigator J. J. Bourquin said, and has just completed eight years as a co-operative enterprise.

In his survey, Bourquin found these principles being used:

Only hands grimed with coal may participate.

Participants sign pledges to abide by the rules.

When more miners are needed, employes have preference.

The mine superintendent draws wages equal to one-tenth the sum of the ten highest paid miners.

Wages are at the district scale, plus profits.

Each miner-member participates in profits proportionately to the amount of coal he produces.

The company is a partnership, unincorporated.

Responsibility rests on individuals as well as the company.

The committees — finance, three members; policy, five—run the business.

Each miner-partner has a vote in selecting the committees.

Difficulties Encountered

"At first many difficulties were encountered," Bourquin said. "Some men were energetic, ambitious workers; others were inclined to let their associates produce the coal, but wanted to share in the profits. In time, after a hard struggle and many changes in the personnel of the company, business-like methods were adopted and the mine was put on a paying basis."

A piece-work plan had to be instituted to discourage the "bloated bondholder" feeling of some of the partners. Only bona fide illness now exempts a partner from paying his share of operating expenses, and his profits are figured on the basis of his production.

All the partners and all employes are union laborers, paid according to district scale.

Sometimes Face Trouble

"Trouble arises occasionally among the day men in this mine as elsewhere," Bourquin explained. "When these troubles cannot be settled between the day men and the committee representing the company, strikes have occurred. Under such circumstances, all work is stopped, the miners who comprise the partnership put down their tools and come out with the strikers, and the mine is idle until the differences are arbitrated by the executive board of the miners' union."

After describing benefits individual miners have in the Keely mine, including about 50 per cent higher returns, Borquin added: "Numerous attempts have been made to organize companies to operate mines co-operatively, but in the majority of instances such efforts have resulted in utter failure."

CENTER FOR COLORED GIRLS

A Y. W. C. A. center for colored girls was opened recently at Montclair, N. J., in one of the old mansions of the town. The house has been made over to include dormitory space, clubrooms, a tearoom and accommodations for educational classes and social affairs. The lawn provides a recreation ground and tennis courts. The colored association of the town, which was organized eight years ago, has at present 600 members. This is the fifty-eighth center for colored girls opened in the United States in the last few years by the colored department of the national board of the Y. W. C. A.

FRENCH COURTESY

In one of the smaller cities in central France used by a division headquarters during the winter of 1918-1919, Alphonse, the barber, endeavored to learn to speak English. To this end he was diligently coached by numerous Yank dispatch bearers, sergeant-majors and clerical workers, and Alphonse learned fast.

No less a personage than the commanding general of the division strode into the barber shop one day and demanded a shave in a hurry. Alphonse, who was tending a lowly enlisted customer, knew rank when he saw it and rose to the occasion.

"Sairtainlee, mon general," he replied, bowing with the French politeness. "Seet down, mon general, an' you be nex,' you beeg steef."

The general waited.

AMONG STARVING CHILDREN

Work among the starving children in Europe is being participated in by the Young Women's Christian association of the United States, through the Polish Gray Samaritans, the Polish-American girls who trained for social service in Poland under the American Y. W. C. A. and are now with the American Relief association in charge of the distribution of food to children in outlying districts of Poland. According to recent letters from them, they are feeding 1,300,000 children a day, through the food kitchens and distributing stations. The Y. W. C. A. is one of the eight organizations in the European Relief council formed under the direction of Herbert Hoover for the relief of European children.
